ROCK ISLAND MILLS.—The Rock Island Woolen Mills, at Charlotte, ought to be sustained by the people of the State, far We fearn from the Times that these mills are now turning out as beautifel and fashionable fabrics as can be had in any market in the country, and, according to quality, as cheap. This is an attempt at Southern independence in the right direction, and if we wish ever to be a growing, thriving community, all must encourage it, not by words of commendation but by acts. Every merchant of this city hould buy his whole stock there, for by so doing he enables the mills to employ a large force, who have to be supplied with all the articles that are kept here for sale. In that way money is kept in the country and in circulation among us, thus giving an increased and continued impetus to all branches of trade. Every motive that can sway the minds of a people is now appealed prises at home. We hope the President of fence is surely more than an assault with to to euco rage and sustain these enter the company will make the public more generally acquainted with the mills and the capital felony. It thus imposes upon every person the necessity and repsonsibility of deciding for himself, under the peril of punishment by a military commission, if he makes a mistake, what works disfranchisement by participation in rebellion, and what amounts to such participation. Almost every man-the negro as well as the white above twenty-one years of age, who was resident in these ten States during the rebellion, voluntarily or involuntarily, at some time and in some way did participate in resistance to the lawful authority of the General Govern-

> The question with the citizen to whom this cath is to be proposed must be a fearful one; for, while the bill does not declare swearing, nor hix any penalty for the ofprevails, that every person is answerable to presentment by a grand jury, for any charge that may be made against him; and that the supreme authority of the military commander determines the question as to what is an offense, and what is to be the measure f punishment.

The fourth section of the bill provides defendants were "Heroes of America," as trict shall appoint as many boards of registration as may be necessary, consisting of three loyal officers or persons." The only qualification stated for these officers is, that they must be "loyal." They may be persons in the military service or civilians, residents of the State or strangers. Yet these persons are to excreise most important duties, and are vested with unlimited discretion. They are to decide what names shall he placed upon the register, and from their decision there is to be no appeal. They are to superintend the elections, and to decide all questions which may arise. They are to have the custody of the ballots, and to make return of the persons elected.— Whatever frauds or errors they may commit must pass without redress. All that is eft for the commanding general is to receive the returns of the elections, open the same, and ascertain who are chosen "according to the returns of the officers who conducted said elections." By such means, the sword." and with this sort of agency, are the conventions to be constituted.

As the delegates are to speak for the people, common justice would seem to require that they should have authority from the people themselves. No convention so constituted will in any sense represent the wishes of the inhabitants of these States; for, under the all-embacing exceptions of these laws, by a construction which the unleaves open to the board of officers, the great body of the people may be excluded from the polls, and from all opportunity of expressing their own whishes, or voting for delegates who will faithfully reflect their sentiments. I do not deem it necessary further to investigate the details of this bill.
